In the orders fourth read above, keeping in view of the instructions issued in the orders second read above, amendment was made to the qualification to the post of Veterinary Assistant duly including the intermediate vocational courses in Dairying and Poultry sciences making one year departmental training in Veterinary Assistant course to be conducted by the Government compulsory to the vocational courses also to be eligible for appointment as Veterinary Assistant as the vocational courses are considered not equivalent to the one year departmental training course.

4. In the orders fifth read above, instructions were issued prescribing the procedure to be followed for filling up of the post of Veterinary Assistant under direct recruitment.
5. In the orders sixth read above, in respect of qualifications for the post of Veterinary Assistant, qualifications prescribed in the orders fourth read above were reiterated.

Ranga Agriculture University, Rajendranagar. One year Departmental training in Veterinary Assistant course has been excluded to this qualification as the animal husbandry polytechnic candidates have already been trained in Animal Husbandry subjects for a period of two years and therefore, one year departmental training is superfluous and not required for Animal Husbandry polytechnic candidates.

Accordingly the Honourable Andhra Pradesh Administrative Tribunal, Hyderabad suspended the operation of clause (ii) (b) of the amendment issued in the Government orders 8 read above.
